Presented by
Office of Graduate Education

Spring 2026: Title II Compliance for Theses and Dissertations

What Is Title II?

- It is part of the ADA (Americans with Disabilities Act). For more information: LINK
- ADA Title II compliance requires state and local government entities to ensure all programs, services, activities, and facilities—including digital content like theses and dissertations which are uploaded to the Georgia Tech Repository

Responsibilities of Students

- Beginning Spring 2026, all theses and dissertations must be fully accessible
- Make sure all source documentation (i.e. Word, LaTeX, etc) has passed basic accessibility checks before converting to a PDF and uploading to the repository
- Any theses or dissertations not fully accessible will be returned for correction.

We are working on drafting a full guide for steps to check accessibility in WORD and eventually LaTeX. In the meantime, please consult this basic accessibility requirements worksheet provided by the Center for Inclusive Design and Innovation (CIDI)

If you have questions regarding accessibility, please consult:
<https://cidi.gatech.edu/services/DAS>

RCR Requirements

Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR)

RCR Training for Master's Thesis Students

- Required for any master's student who is pursuing a thesis. Options to satisfy the requirement include completing online RCR training OR a graduate-level RCR course.
- Must be completed before submitting Request for Approval of Master's Thesis Topic Form
- More information available at <https://rcr.gatech.edu/masters-policy>

Master's students who are funded as a GRA by a covered NSF or NIH grant or by a USDA-NIFA grant will require RCR training regardless of thesis status; the type of training and/or the timeline may differ from that of the degree requirement. Refer to <https://rcr.gatech.edu/compliance-masters> for more information.

Master's students who transition to a doctoral program will be required to complete RCR training.

Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR)

RCR Training for Doctoral Students

- Applies to all doctoral students except those with a catalog year prior to 2011-12.
- Must complete online RCR training within 60 days of first doctoral semester:
<https://rcr.gatech.edu/online-training>
- Must ALSO complete a doctoral RCR course, preferably within the first year of the doctoral program:
<https://rcr.gatech.edu/doctoral-course-requirement>
- All RCR training must be completed before applying to Ph.D. Candidacy

The RCR training for the doctoral degree also satisfies the RCR requirement for doctoral students who are funded as a GRA by a covered NSF or NIH grant or by a USDA-NIFA grant; however, the timeline may differ.

Refer to <https://rcr.gatech.edu/compliance-doctoral> for more information.

Important Notes about RCR

- Check DegreeWorks for your degree-related RCR training completions. The online training completion will be reflected there within 24 hours. Completion of a graduate-level RCR course will not show up in DegreeWorks until a few days after grades are in for the semester
- If you completed the online CITI RCR training through another institution, it may be possible to transfer it over. Check the instructions on our website or contact the RCR Program for details. CITI RCR training does not expire.
- Doctoral students who transferred to Georgia Tech from another institution must complete the doctoral RCR course here.
- Doctoral students should ideally complete the doctoral RCR course the first year of their program. Your graduate program may offer its own in-house RCR course which is the equivalent of PHILSOPHY 6000. If so, it is okay for you to wait until your program's course is offered, even if it goes beyond one year. (If you are taking PHIL 6000, it's recommended to take it your first Summer semester.)

Enrollment during Last Semester

Things to remember:

Check your DegreeWorks for any missing documentation or requirements.

Reactivate degree petition via the OAG if necessary.

All students must be enrolled in a minimum of three hours during their last semester. Enrolling for one hour of thesis is allowed only during last semester.

Students who completed all requirements in the previous semester and don't need to enroll during their final semester may submit an Enrollment Waiver Form.

Enrollment Waivers

What it is:

- A provision which allows Thesis and Non-thesis students to complete their requirements without having to enroll
- PhD and MS Thesis students: must complete requirements by the close of registration for the semester in which they are applying the waiver/intend to graduate
- Must be enrolled in the previous semester (summer included)
- Can be used after 1 hr enrollment.
- Waivers for MS and PhD thesis students will ONLY be processed once the thesis is submitted, defense completed, and all forms received.

What it is not:

- It is not a Tuition Waiver form
- It is not a form to excuse not enrolling for a semester (including summer). Students actively working on their thesis/dissertation should be enrolled properly each semester.

 Graduate
Education
Waiver of Enrollment

IMPORTANT: This enrollment waiver does not automatically reactivate your degree petition. You must meet the Registrar's normal deadlines to petition to graduate or reactivate your degree petition for this term. If you are an F-1 or J-1 student visa holder, submitting this form will result in OIE shortening your F-20/DS-2019 form to align with the term of your last enrollment. Before submitting this form, you must consult with OIE to ensure you are fully aware of the impact this will have on your immigration record.

GTID #: _____

I request a waiver of the Institute requirement that a graduate student be registered during the semester in which he/she/they graduates (enrollment waiver).

I have completed all degree requirements and will no longer require any of the Institute's facilities or faculty time to complete the following (choose one):

MS without thesis (course work only)
 MS with thesis option
 Ph.D. degree.

I propose graduating during the _____ (semester) of 20____ (year). I am/was registered in the semester preceding my proposed graduation semester, the semester for which I am requesting a waiver. This includes summer semesters. [Exception: non-thesis master's students who have completed all coursework prior to the graduation semester need not have been enrolled the prior term.]

I understand that I may apply for this waiver only once. If a thesis is required for my degree and I do not submit my final approved thesis to the Graduate Education office before the end of the registration period for the above specified semester, I may have to register for at least 3 hours.

Thesis students must complete the following at the same time as this form:

- Final approved thesis uploaded to the ETD/Vireo web site
- Submit Signed Certificate of Thesis Approval and any other required document to Office of Graduate Education.
- Oral presentation and all corrections must be completed before the submission.

One Hour Rule & Reduced Course Loads

- Students may enroll in 1 credit hour ONE TIME PER DEGREE in the last semester of graduation.
- Students who have enrolled for one hour only more than one time per degree must enroll for the normal minimum of three hours in the semester of graduation.
- Please note that these exceptions do not alter the credit-hour load a student must take to meet financial aid, fellowship or assistantship eligibility, etc .
- Enrollment Waivers do not activate degree petitions. Students must reapply or have an active OAG.
- If students are F-1 or J-1 student visa holder, submitting the enrollment waiver form will result in OIE shortening their I-20/DS-2019 form to align with the term of their last enrollment. Before submitting this form, students must consult with OIE to ensure they are fully aware of the impact this will have on their immigration record.
- Students intending to enroll in the Student Health Insurance Plan must be enrolled in a minimum of four credit hours to participate in the plan.
- Students should address any questions or concerns regarding enrollment during the last semester to the Graduate Education Thesis Office before the end of registration; no additions or changes in registration are allowed after the close of registration.

Copyright and Repository

Copyright and your Thesis

- Using copyrighted work
- Copyright in your own work

What is Copyright?

- Literally, the right to copy (or share, disseminate, etc)
- Granted to: Original creative work (of a human) fixed in a tangible means of expression (digital or physical).

Using copyrighted work

- The holder of the copyright in any given work can grant permissions, for example to re-use or re-distribute the work.
- Most common question: “Do I have to get permission to re-use _____ in my thesis?”
- The common answer: IT DEPENDS

Do I need permission to re-use?

YOU DON'T NEED PERMISSION FOR
(BUT you need to CITE!)

- Quoting someone else's words
- Paraphrasing someone else's writing
- Summarizing someone else's work
- Referring to someone else's work

YOU MAY NEED PERMISSION FOR THINGS LIKE:

- Images
- Diagrams
- Photographs
- Code
- Songs/Lyrics
- Long passages

Fair Use

Section 107 of the Copyright Act: The fair use of a copyrighted work...for the purposes such as criticism, comment, news reporting, teaching...scholarship, or research is not an infringement of copyright. In determining whether the use made of a work in any particular case is a fair use the factors to be considered...include:

- Purpose of re-use (for example, use for scholarship favors fair use).
- Nature of original work (for example, if the work you're using is factual in nature rather than creative)
- Amount of original re-used (the less used, the stronger the case for fair use).
- Effect of re-use on original's market value (use of something that is sold in the marketplace is not a strong fair use case).

(For more information contact the Scholarly Communications Librarian at etd@library.gatech.edu or the Office of Legal Affairs at asklegal@gatech.edu.)

Fair Use

Some good resources to help evaluate whether a use is “fair use”

- <https://www.lib.umn.edu/copyright/fairthoughts>
- <https://copyright.columbia.edu/basics/fair-use/fair-use-checklist.html>
- <http://librarycopyright.net/resources/fairuse/toc.php>

Using my own copyrighted work

“Can I use the journal article I wrote as a chapter in my thesis?”

- If you signed away your copyright when you published, then check the agreement you signed with your publisher.
- If the agreement doesn't specifically mention those rights, contact the publisher to obtain permission.

Copyright in the Finished Thesis/Dissertation

How do I get copyright for my thesis/dissertation?

- You automatically have copyright for life plus 70 years after your death.
- You have all of the rights of dissemination or transfer. (Georgia Tech only gets the license to post a copy in the Library Repository — it doesn't hold any other permissions.)
- You don't have to register your thesis, but you get more legal protection if you do. (Register at the Library of Congress registration site.)

Your thesis will go into the Library Repository, where anyone can discover and access your document. Other authors must contact you first for re-use permissions — unless you use Creative Commons Licensing.

Creative Commons Licensing

- Creative Commons licenses help creators (licensors) retain copyright while allowing others to copy, distribute, and otherwise reuse their work.
- You can specify non-commercial reuses only.
- Licenses work around the world and last as long as applicable copyright lasts.

Find more information at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses>.

What else can I do with my thesis?

Remember, you own the copyright to your thesis! You can disseminate it however you want!

- Submit to any thesis database!
- Print a copy!
- Give it to your friends!
- Post it on a website! Post it on a lot of websites!
- Link to it on social media!

Submitting Datasets and Other Supplementary Files

You have the option to upload supplementary files with your thesis, if you wish. Files like:

- Datasets
- Images
- Video files
- Code

Copyright restrictions still apply (it has to be YOUR data, YOUR images, YOUR videos, etc)

Special Considerations for Data

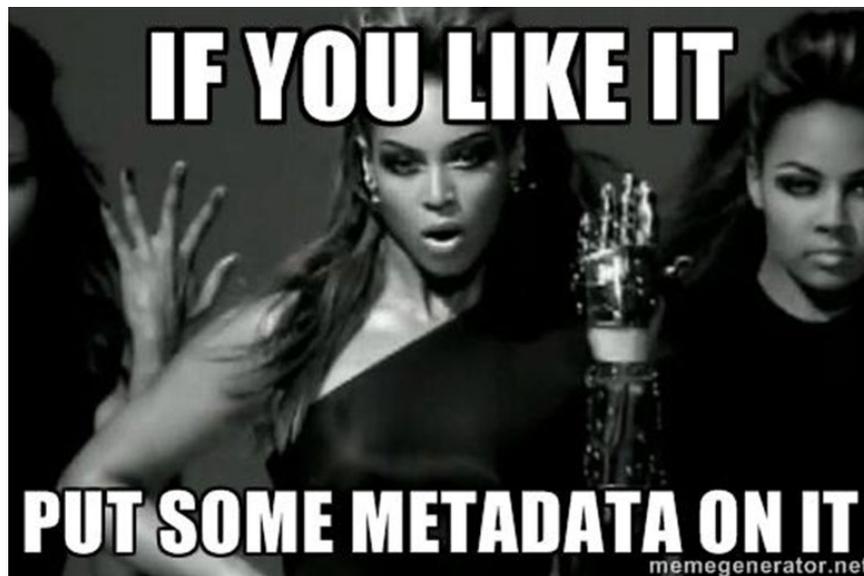

Did your data involve human subjects or other sensitive materials?

If yes, do not deposit, the library CANNOT accept sensitive/restricted data.

Are your data files larger than 512MB?

- If you answered “no” : submit your dataset, code, scripts, and other supplemental materials via Vireo, right along with your thesis or dissertation.
- If “yes” contact repository@library.gatech.edu, for more guidance:

Documentation of Datasets

All datasets, no matter how you submit them, should be accompanied by additional documentation.

If you don't already have materials describing your dataset, use our template to create a "README.txt" file

Taxes 101

Taxes 101 for Graduate Students – Tax Year 2025

Tuesday, Feb. 10 at 2pm, Hybrid

Ehmer Theater, John Lewis Student Center and Zoom

Taxes 101 for Graduate Students is a presentation for all graduate students who received income from fellowships, scholarships, GRA or GTA positions during the 2025 tax year. Representatives from Global Human Resources, the Bursar's Office, the Office of Graduate Education, and the Graduate Student Lounge have teamed up to help walk through the dos and don'ts of filing taxes as a graduate student.

Please note: None of the presenters at this session are tax professionals. We are not able to provide specific tax advice to you given your particular filing needs. The purpose of the session is to explain how graduate students typically file taxes and the resources provided by Georgia Tech to help graduate students with the process. We will not answer specific questions in advance of the session as we will cover most of the common questions during the session. This session will be delivered in person in the Ehmer (formerly Atlantic) Theater in the John Lewis Student Center and online via Zoom. Complete the registration form linked below to receive the access link via email. Registrants will also receive a copy of the slides and event recording immediately following the event. The recording will be posted on our website.

Just Write! Fridays is an opportunity for graduate students to gather with their peers--either in person or online--to get some writing done. This is a drop-in event with no registration required. Students can sign up to get weekly reminders that include the link to join via Zoom.
